

In 2022, a teenaged Girl Scout partnered with Planned Parenthood to work on her Girl Scout Gold Award (equivalent to the Boy Scouts Eagle Award). For her project (which requires at least 80 hours of planning & implementation), Sadie created a comprehensive sex education website (www.letstalksex.org) & interviewed three Planned Parenthood Professionals.

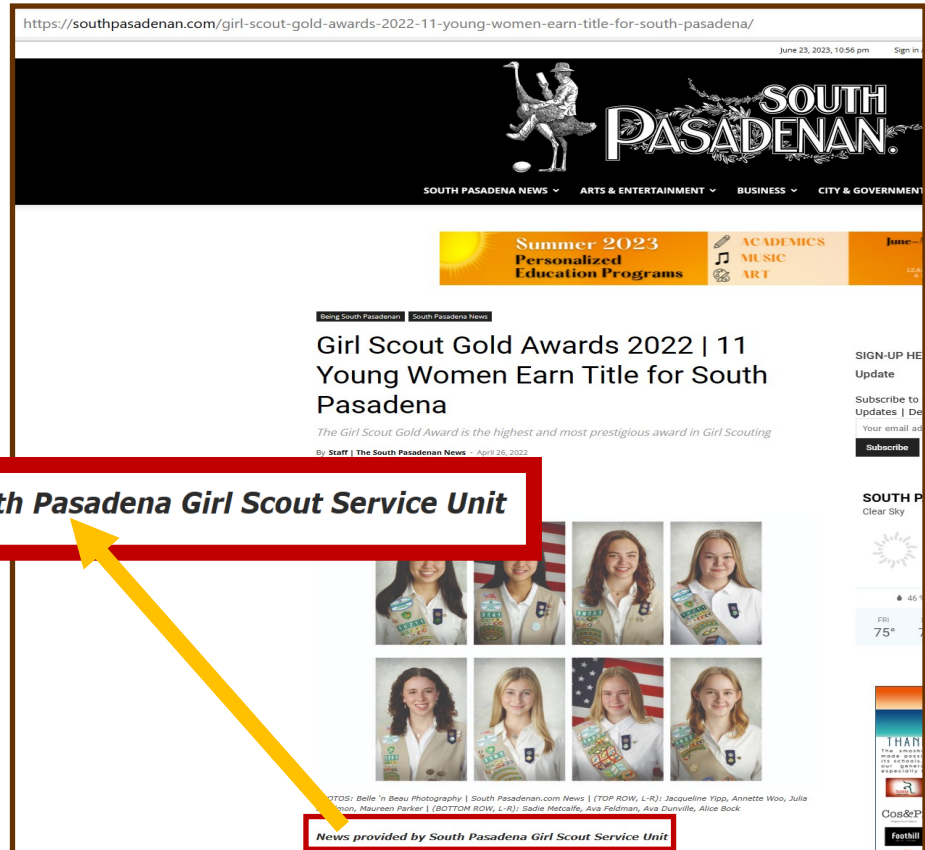

In her video, Sadie interviewed Sarah, a Planned Parenthood Director of Clinical Services, to talk about birth control for her Let's Talk Sex Girl Scout Gold Award project. During the interview the Planned Parenthood director states (at minute marker 0:54 until MM 1:07) that "birth control is anything that keeps a pregnancy from happening or a baby from being born." At Minute Marker 1:35, Sarah also affirms birth control "could mean abortion"... "all of this counts under the umbrella of birth control."

Sadie Metcalfe – Troop 5391

Sadie Metcalfe partnered with Planned Parenthood Pasadena & San Gabriel Valley on her project entitled, Let's Talk Sex. She worked to increase awareness among high school students about birth control and sexually transmitted infections (STIs) in the San Gabriel Valley by creating a comprehensive sex education website (www.letstalksex.org) and conducting interviews and hosting a webinar with healthcare professionals in the field. She also taught a sex education class and held a condom distribution event at the South Pasadena Farmer's Market. Sadie has been a Girl Scout for 11 years.
